Is Your Back Giving Out?

may be the cause of your bad back, that nervous, "blue," depressed feeling, and that annoying kidney irregularity. Don't wait for some serious kidney illness. Get back your health and keep it! Live more simply and sensibly awhile and help the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These are Portsmouth Cases:

GALLIA STREET

James Hughes, prop. Urethra shop, 2125 Gallia St., says: "My back was so lame I could hardly bend over at my work, because when I did, sharp pains would catch me in my back, and I would have to sit still for several minutes. My kidneys acted too often and the secretions were scanty and highly colored. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Flood and Baker's Drug Store and they gave me fine relief."

AGAIN FRANKLIN DOAN'S

Three years later, Mr. Hughes said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble, and I am glad to praise them again. I can't say too much for Doan's."

WEST SECOND STREET

Mrs. Peter Dice, 117 W. 2nd St., says: "For years my kidneys bothered me off and on and the last attack was about a year ago. My back ached terribly and I had such sharp twinges through my kidneys I could hardly get up or down. Nights I couldn't rest well and could hardly turn over. My kidneys didn't act at all right and I was annoyed by bladder disorder and other symptoms of kidney trouble. Mornings, I felt tired and all worn out. The first few of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and I kept on using them until I had taken two boxes. By that time my kidneys were acting right and the backache had disappeared. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy I have ever used."

TENTH STREET

Mrs. A. E. Kennett, 1125 Tenth St., says: "When I was doing my work sharp pains caught me in the small of my back and I sometimes would fall to the floor helpless. For three or four days I would be in bed suffering with terrible pains. I couldn't turn over it hurt me so and I was so sore and lame I didn't want anyone to touch me. The last attack I had I suffered that way about two weeks before a friend advised me to get Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's helped me right away and when I had used two boxes my backache and other trouble was gone and I could go about my work again feeling fine."

No package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple leaf trademark and the signature — "Jas. Doan."

SEVENTH STREET

O. W. Metzger, painter, 2231 Seventh St., says: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was backache. I was chopping wood one day when a stitch took me in the small of my back and I had to be helped into the house. The kidney secretions were scanty and turned in passage. I also noticed that they contained sediment like brick-dust. I treated with six physicians and used many medicines with no results. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills helped me a great deal and by the time I had finished three boxes I was cured. That cure has lasted for over five years."

EIGHTEENTH STREET

Lewis Finner, carpenter, 1210 Eighteenth Street, says: "A cold generally brings on my kidney trouble. Some years ago I was in a bad fix from kidney ailments. When I stooped over to pick up a timber, a sharp, severe pain would shoot up from the small of my back. At times I could hardly straighten up. My kidneys acted too frequently, but the secretions were scanty and passed with a burning sensation. I had dizzy spells so bad that I would stagger around. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I bought a box at Frost's Drug Store. Two boxes of Doan's fixed me up in fine shape."

Dear Dolly—I am almost heart-broken, as I have been married for a long while. Sometimes I don't know what to do. If I would sit down and study about everything I know I couldn't stand it. Now, what do you think when strange people will come and ask you if you need help, and see to far more than your nearest ones. My own sister give me a helping hand.

A WEARIED MOTHER.

I judge from your letter that strangers are doing more for you than your own children. It is difficult to explain why your relatives are so mean. They certainly have little souls. A sensitive person cannot bear to cause or see suffering. I believe that if I were you I would try to overlook their meanness. Simply know that by a higher law they will get what they deserve. Perhaps you suffer more than necessary because you imagine things and brood over your troubles. Strength is given to those who must suffer and usually they do not comprehend all they endure. Keep your heart full of love. A good life is an inspiration to others, and even if your relatives do not profit by your efforts, others will see and be made happy. You should be thankful that your friends and neighbors are good to you. Appreciate all they do for you and you will find them always ready and willing to do more. As a rule people get as much out of life as they put in it—no more, and no less. Those who go through life looking for trouble don't have to go far until they find it. On the other hand those who look for the bright things in life always find them. What are you going to brighten the lives of those about you.

Dear Dolly—I am a boy 19 years of age and have been going with a girl of 19 for some time. We think lots of each other but my father will not give his consent for me to get married. She is a nice girl. Please tell me what to do.

PARMER BOY.

There is nothing for you to do but wait until you are old enough to get married without your father's consent.

Dear Dolly—I would like to know if there is any way to stop the sale of malt and legs which are made up with yeast and get drunk and quarrel with their families. I would also like to know why some people are allowed to have barking dogs without tags that annoy the neighbors while others have to buy a license tag. I know of lots of them in the first ward.

A TAXPAYER.

The only way to put a stop to these things is to report them to the proper authorities.

Dear Dolly—A man who claims to be a scientific farmer moved into our neighborhood last fall and of course all thought we would pattern our farming after him and do it the scientific way. We watched and waited and he hasn't planted any corn yet. He also said he was going to set out tobacco plants but he hasn't set any out yet. Dolly will strychnine kill you if you swallow enough of it.

PROGRESSIVE FARMER.

I think the "scientific" farmer is playing a little joke on you. If I were you I would go ahead and run my farm the same as usual this year and if he comes out ahead, I would try the scientific way next year. Strychnine is a deadly poison and will surely kill you if you take a drink of it.

They are the gingham hats that match each gingham frock, being made of exactly the same material. The gingham is arranged over wire frames in the same manner as organically and georgette crepe.

Small checked gingham is the favorite, with trimmings of plain goods of the same color. Business girls are especially popularizing the fad as it fits in with their needs. A light hat of gingham is much more cooler to place upon one's head when it is necessary to go to lunch, or home, when the sun's rays are pointed straight at Portsmouth streets. The hats cost very little, and therefore it is quite the thing to have one match each different frock.

With the partial abatement of the spring recital season, music lovers found an opportunity Thursday evening to enjoy a program of delightful organ, piano, violin and vocal numbers which will remain a happy lingering echo for the rest of the season. The Twilight Concert at the Second Presbyterian church, given under the auspices of the Opportunity Auxiliary, furnished the occasion for hearing this most enjoyable program of music, interspersed with interesting readings. Mr. David Jones, a student of the Gullman Organ School, New York City, gave the major part of the program. The smoothness of his tones, with his arful execution, gave evidence of his year's work and of the bright future of this young artist. Much laudatory comment was aroused by all the other numbers, which made up the following program:

Organ—Marche Religieuse—Alex. Gullman—David Jones
Voice—Morning—Oley Speaks
To You—Oley Speaks
Mrs. James Williams
Viola—Large—Hazel
Viola—Mrs. R. H. Denatison
Reading—"A Complicated Love Affair"—Madeline Hall
Organ—Lament—Joseph Munroe
David Jones
Voice—"I've Been Roaming"—Horn
"Wake Up"—Phillips
Irma Lindemeyer
Piano—First Arabesque—Debussy
First Prelude—Chopin
Margaret Stahler
Reading—"The Little French Doll"—Madeline Hall
Voice—Myself When Young—Toll Me Not of a Lass—Cecile Forsyth
Clyde Knott
Organ—Allegro from 10th Concerto—David Jones
Accompanists—Miss Anna Cramer, Miss Irma Lindemeyer.

Despite the warm evening, the church was well filled with an appreciative audience, which was seated by ten attractive dressed girls of the auxiliary, who acted as ushers. The silver offering, which received a generous response, amounted to about fifty dollars. This will be used for benevolent purposes of the society.

New Pumper Is Tested

Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock the new triple combination fire truck was given an hour test on the lower Market square and local fire officials were well pleased with the results. The truck, an American La France, made at Eliza, New York, is a combination truck, carrying hose, chemicals and pumper. The pumper was put into operation Thursday afternoon and pumped two streams of water out of the cylinder on the platform, showing up satisfactorily to the firemen.

After over twenty minutes of pumping with the two lines of hose the big ladder tower was run up and both hose lines coupled to the line on the big ladder. An enormous stream was thrown in this manner.

The new machine will pump 750 gallons of water a minute. In order that the test might more fully be made a four hour demonstration will be made on the lower Market square Friday afternoon, beginning at one o'clock.

Two of these machines costing the city in all around $24,000 will be installed as part of the Portsmouth Fire Department equipment. The other machine is expected in thirty days. The new machine will be assigned to the Seventh street department and when the other arrives it will go to the Third.

Walter Lauer and Della Ayres of the Seventh street department will drive the new truck.

Bert Raymond of Eliza, N. Y. is in the city demonstrating the new truck and will be present at the demonstration Friday afternoon.

Officials present besides Mr. Raymond at the test Thursday were Safety Director El Struss, Fire Chief Herbert Leedom, police chief Joe. District police captain Lee Blatzman.

A large crowd was attracted by the demonstration. Business along the upper end of the esplanade and at the

It would be difficult to assess the value of the demonstrations. They had them at Chicago three weeks ago and it was noted that the galleries yelled themselves hoarse for Hoover while the delegates sat unmoved. Here the galleries shouted loudest for Mellon and while delegation after delegation marched around shouting. The best showing made by any of the candidates was that developed by the supporters of Governor Cox of Ohio. Led by its own band, the Cox people stirred up the most commotion.

to say what modifications in either law they favored. One part of the country now can vote and another without embarrassment the general and vice presidential meetings.

The Cox managers were stated by the confusion of the plank on the prohibition question. They have been telling the delegates from west Iowa that with Cox on the ticket, Cox is self would be the platform. His objections are given as the common reasons for his selection.

the action taken by the Resolution tion that the famous senator from the Empire State was really talking the language of Woodrow Wilson. Coming from Tennessee, it made a lot and bespoke hypocrisy to the coming campaign. Without question the demonstration for Smith was calculated to have an effect on the folks back home but even Charlie Murphy didn't dream the convention would rise to the newsgen the way it did. Then Charlie of Mississippi denounced the delegates, too, and he denounced the nomination of Governor Cox. Harrison launched an attack on the San Francisco newspapers, some of which have been unnecessarily hostile and meddlesome in view of the fact that San Francisco is the host to the convention. The entire gathering rose and cleared the demonstration for the newspapers for each candidate has a right to be heard in the columns of the local press. But Mr. Harrison fooled the people of San Francisco, the convention rejected his proposal.

There has been a plethora of studies realizing that the delegates spent in their deconcentrations for the various congresses. The Democrats are having a wonderful time. They met as if they had already won the November election. It was significant that after the speaker, Valerius had referred to the vigorous manner in which the attorney general to combat the Peacock Chadron of New York diplomatically inserted in his concluding speech for Al Smith a mild rebuke for the Palmer message, declaring that the best way to handle anarchy was not by clubbing but by conversion. venten and took the crowds in the galleries out of their seats in estates of approval. If Palmer, Cox or McAdoo fail to win, the name of Homer Cummings is being heard on every side as the probable compromise. The announcement by Ira Rutherford of Denver, as he suspected the nomination of Cummings, that the New York Times had come out editorially for Cummings added strength to the cause of the Democratic National Chairman. It seems to be McAdoo or Cummings as the fourth day of the convention is at hand.

WORDY WAR AT BALL GAME

A wordy war between Ed. Hubert, Thursday evening, a roofer, and Cateber Goodman, of the steel plant team, led to the staging of a small sized riot at the Fenway street ball grounds at the close of the game between the Froediers and Steelmen. The altercation started immediately after the Froediers had put over the winning marker in the last half of the final inning and serious trouble was imminent as the excited fans surged into the field and surrounded the steel plant bench. As Officer Flowers made his way through the crowd, he was struck by Highfielder Davis of the Steelmen. It is said, and the ball player was then placed under arrest.

This added to the excitement and the crowd swayed into Fifteenth street a howling mass, following the officer and his prisoner. Davis was put in an automobile and brought to police headquarters, but was later released.

Man Drops 25 Feet

Cell Patton, aged 23, who was a member of the famous Thirty Seventh Division and took part in seven important battles and emerged from them without a scratch was injured Friday morning when he fell a distance of 25 feet while painting his home at 1541 Fourth street.

The ladder on which he was standing gave way and he had no chance to protect himself. He was bruised about the back and shoulder and his left ankle was injured. Dr. J. S. Baylin, who was called said an X-ray picture would have to be taken of the ankle to determine if any bones had been broken.

Patton who is a well known young man is employed in the barrel department of the Whitaker Glassware plant.

Concluding this a sociable hour was enjoyed during which the hostess served a two-course supper to the guests. Mrs. M. ## Coming events cast their shadows

Do not allow the Time to Pass with Nature Unaided

THE sculpturing of a statue is a greater thing than the unveiling of it; and so the growth of the unborn infant under its mother's influence is no less important than its entrance into the life that follows.

No woman awaiting the joy of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand. Mother's Friend is a veritable fairy for the nerves, an intensely penetrating application that softens the muscles, relaxes nervous tension of the delicate organism involved in maternity, and prepares the way for an easier, quicker, and practical delivery.

WILL YOU HELP MAKE KIDDIES HAPPY?

Is your car filled to overflowing, in your plans for a day at camp, or that picnic for the Fourth of July, which will be celebrated, Monday?

Think children at the Children's Home have had no provision made for their entering into the general celebration always attending the nation's birthday. In every home in Portsmouth, with very few exceptions, "father" will risk his brain thinking of making a success, or the picnic party a never-to-be-forgotten one. "Dad" will tune up the machine engine to present any merriment of the day's enjoyment while the "kiddies" will have fireworks and fun galore. Isn't it possible for you to make an addition, or two to the party Mr. Dad, or if Dad already has a full load, can't you have an extra rake or make another freer of extra Mrs. Mother?

The Children's Home Board will provide some fireworks to help the "kiddies" have a good time, but an extra ride would add a lot to the day. There are 42 children at the home now. Some of the larger ones are going to the Manly church picnic. Few others have invitations to spend the day with relatives, but the majority will stay at the home with but a few exceptions, unless Portsmouth residents take the matter in hand, and help spread joy among the children.

Will you take one of the kiddies for an auto ride or on a picnic? What do you say?

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 2.—Advances of a point in Baldwin locomotive, Westinghouse and Middle States oil and fractional recessions in several of the high grade rails American can and the coppers measured the extent of the irregular movement of prices at today's opening of the stock market. The effect of the closing holidays was apparent in the small attendance of members on the exchange and the very light business reported by commission houses from out of town sources.

Contrary to usual pre-holiday session, today's stock market was relatively active and despondent. Many popular issues registered maximum quotations for the week. Sales aggregated 450,000 shares. The closing as follows:

POPULAR COMEDY TO BE HEARD AT CHAUTAUQUA

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE."

THIS typical American comedy enjoyed a run of one year in New York City and another year in Chicago. It is said to create more laughter to the minute than any play in recent years. It runs over with humor and at the same time is absolutely clean and wholesome.

The company is scheduled for Chautauqua's sixth night and before they have been on the stage two minutes the play will reach out and rap you gently on the back. You will be aware of a warm, comfortable feeling that causes you to settle back contentedly with complete faith that it is going to keep you jovial and interested during the whole evening.

To a certain extent, "It Pays to Advertise" makes fun of advertising, but it is one of the best ads the advertising men can have. The central idea is an old one. It is the familiar story of the rich father and the idle son. The father makes a wager with his stenographer that she can not induce the son to go to work. She succeeds in getting him interested in a business proposition. He forms a partnership with a fellow who believes with all his heart and soul and amazing nerve that it pays to advertise. The father is a soap manufacturer, and the young fellows enter that field, flooding the territory with ads of their soap. The ad campaign is a tremendous success, but the young enthusiasts forget to make soap. The public demands the new soap, and the youngsters force the soap trust to buy them out at enormous prices.

Spring on the Coast.

Now is the season of sailing; for already the chattering swallows have come, and the gracious west wind, the meadows flower, and the sea, tossed up with waves and rough blasts, has sunk to silence. Weigh thine anchors and untie those hawsers. O mariner, and sail with all thy canvas set, this 1st of May of the harbor tell thee, O man, that thou mayest sail forth with all thy trafficking. From "Lenditas of Turenne," by J. W. Mackail.

Where Old Servants Are Cared For.
A peculiar institution in Stockholm is an "old servants' home," where servants too old to work are given shelter and care in their last days.

Wood To Offer More Than Passive Support Of Harding

NEW YORK, July 2.—A half-hour conference today between Major General Leonard Wood and Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, caused a flurry of excitement in the offices of the party's national headquarters when a report filtered through the closed doors of Mr. Hays' office that more than passive support of the Harding campaign had been offered by the general.

To Get "Results" From Reading.
The man or boy who reads with attention cannot read unless it what he reads is worth perusing. Of his habits when a student a man who achieved greatness says, "Many other students read more than I did and knew more than I did. But so much as I read I made my own. When a half-hour, or an hour at most, had elapsed, I closed my book and thought on what I had read. If there was anything particularly interesting or striking in the passage, I endeavored to recall it and lay it up in my memory, and commonly recall effect my object."

CORRECT MOURNING FOR SUMMER WEAR

Here is an attractive mourning costume expressive of quiet elegance. A very light veil of the finest mesh covers the face, but it has a deep border of crepe and the long drape in the back is crepe. The smart little hat is of the black crepe faced with white crepe. The frock is sheer, georgette embroidered in dull black beads.

EFFORTS TO REACH AGREEMENT TO CHECK DEBATE ARE FUTILE

AUDITORIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Growing accustomed to late starts, the delegates and crowds were slower than ever in arriving for the fifth day's session.

The hour of ten came and went with hardly a handful of delegates on the floor and with great empty patches in the galleries. Only a few of the big leaders had come in.

Mr. Bryan came to the convention hall prepared to offer the plank as minority reports. His dry plank was the same as the one he announced on his arrival in San Francisco last week.

In another plank he renewed his fight for a national bulletin to be published by the federal government. He also had a profligate plank, proposing the elimination of "unnecessary middlemen" and to force disclosure of cost and selling price and to recommend creation within the states of commission similar to the federal trade commission. Another plank, very brief, merely stated opposition to universal compulsory military training in times of peace. His treaty plank was also the same as the one he previously has announced.

James H. Nugent of New Jersey was ready with a wet plank. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Nugent discussed the order of their recognition with Chairman Robinson and it was arranged that before the platform had been placed before the convention, Nugent would first offer his wet plank as an amendment and that Mr. Bryan would offer his dry plank as a substitute.

Another authority report, dealing with soldier relief, was ready to be presented by Tom D. Lyons of Oklahoma. It made no mention of a bonus, but declared for a system of farm and home loans. Just what form the fight of the Irish sympathizers for their recognition plank would take had not been revealed.

Ten fifteen saw most of the delegates assembled but on the platform there was not a sign of the convention officials. They stayed in the back ground working out details of procedure with the opposing leaders.

The music kept up but the crowd manifestly was fast losing interest in it and kept up a rumble of speculation about the coming fight.

One of the plans under consideration in the back stage conferences of leaders was a suggestion that all debate on the platform be limited to three hours and that balloting for a presidential candidate should follow its conclusion. There was some objection, however, and the consultations continued without immediate fruit.

At 10:27 Chairman Robinson, Senator Glass and Mr. Bryan appeared together on the platform and there was a scattered patter of applause. Some cheers for Bryan followed from corners of the galleries and there were a lot of impatient demands that the convention get under way.

"Let's go, let's go," the crowd yelled. The band quieted it by striking up "Over There."

Apparently the plan of procedure had not yet been completed and Senator Robinson and the others on the ## Kingchen an Ancient City.

Kingchen is one of the four largest towns of China. Technically it is not a city. It is a town, because it has no wall. In reality it is a busy industrial city, with a population of 50,000. Two-thirds of the people are directly engaged in the manufacture and sale of porcelain and pottery. Historically it dates back to the Han dynasty, 200 A. D. It is during this period that we find the first records of the production of porcelain in China, though earthenware vessels were probably produced some centuries earlier.

Deafness That Isolates

Deafness does not necessarily spell isolation, although a great many people seem to think so. There are a number of clever, intelligent people of good education and broad views who through illness or accident become deaf of hearing—or partially deaf. Isolation is the hardest thing a partially deaf person has to contend with and when one is denied general intercourse with others one is apt to grow selfish and self-centered.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME AGITATED IN MANY STATES

Map, with key, shows scope of daylight saving movement.

National investigation reveals the farming element, with a portion of organized labor, opposed to the daylight saving plan and the remainder of the population favorable to its adoption.

As a result of the sporadic adoption of the daylight scheme, trunk line railroads have been forced to run their through trains on the "old" or standard time. Interurban lines, however, have in a large measure adopted the time schedule of the cities they serve.

In Wisconsin the agitation for saving was widespread, but non-productive of results. Milwaukee, Madison, Racine, Fond du Lac, Neenah, Kaukauna and Janesville are still undecided. At Stevens Point citizens operate their businesses an hour earlier, but there is no ordinance. In Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Washington and California chambers of commerce, fraternal lodges, civic associations and newspapers are advocating acceptance of the plan.

New York and Massachusetts have adopted it by state law; in New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island all of the large towns are on the new schedule; the northern half of New Jersey, excepting Newark, is operating under daylight saving ordinances, and in Detroit and Cleveland eastern standard time has been adopted.

The industrial centers in Pennsylvania and Ohio have moved the clock ahead one hour, as have Chicago, Denver, Salt Lake City, Chattanooga, Tennessee and other large towns.

Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and the south Atlantic coast cities have not adopted the measure.

Trade Tour Discussed

A big trade tour that will compare with the trade tours put on by the larger cities is being talked of by the Chamber of Commerce here. This matter was brought up for the first time at the weekly meeting of the board of directors Thursday, the meeting having been postponed from Tuesday. Edward T. Reed brought the subject up for discussion and the directors spent sometime on the question. The trade tour is generally a boosters' tour for the city.

A special train of several cars is chartered and elite's trading territory is visited mostly by wholesalers, manufacturers and retailers. The trip generally occupies several days. For instance such a tour out of Portsmouth by the Chamber of Commerce would include the cities along the N. & W. between here and Bluefield, here and Cincinnati, here and Chillicothe, and between here and a distant point on the R. & O. This is a matter that will be given careful consideration by the directors for the next few months. Manager J. B. Wiles reported on the last meeting held in Columbus, Tuesday. Truck dealers have requested Mr. Wiles to act as commander of the truck dealers tour and demonstration to be held starting July 10 and to act as commander. The Board decided to meet semi-monthly during July and August instead of weekly. The Street Cleaning Committee of the C. of C. is composed of W. W. Gates, George Goodman, Edw. Gifford and O. W. Brierley.

DAM OPENING WILL BE MADE A GALA EVENT

A meeting of the Dam Celebration Committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held Friday morning, when further plans were discussed for the opening and dedication of the dam in the Ohio river about three miles below Portsmouth.

The date of the big event is Thursday, July 15. Several thousand people are expected to participate in the celebration, as it falls on a Thursday half holiday. At the meeting this morning the committee in charge of securing boats to carry the crowd to the dam, it was reported that the E. A. Woodruff, a government boat, and the Curuga, another government boat, would be here sure, the last named to be the flagship, carrying the honored guests and C. of C. committee. Other boats sure to be on hand will be the City of Ironton, Belle C. Edginton, and the Sis, all from the local harbor.

The committee is also after the packets which stop here, along with packets from up-river cities. Transportation will be provided for all who expect to make the trip to the dam. The River City band has already been engaged for the occasion.

The committee is sending out programs to all who have signified their intention of being here. Senator Warren G. Harding will be unable to be present, and Mrs. James M. Cox, wife of Governor Cox, has also sent word that she will not be able to be here on that date. Another woman of importance will be secured to christen the dam.

The program committee, consisting of F. C. Hood, Paul Davidson, and Fred Wimer, visited the dam Friday afternoon and looked over the ground for the holding of the program. There will be speeches and other events at the dam after the christening.

Word has also been received that the Fox Film Company and Pathé Film Company would have men here to take moving pictures of the big event.

"I FEEL TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER," SHE STATES

Massillon Woman Was Helpless From Rheumatism When She Began Taking Tanlac—Has Gained 20 Pounds.

"My friends keep asking me what I have been taking to make me get well so quick, and I am only too glad to tell them Tanlac," said Mrs. Jennie Bean of 1505 Eu. Erie St., Massillon, Ohio.

"Mrs. Bean, or 'Mother Bean' as she is affectionately called by her many friends, is one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Massillon, and her statement will be of unusual interest to many.

"Well, since I began taking Tanlac," she continued, "I have actually gained twenty pounds in weight and feel at least twenty years younger. I had suffered from rheumatism fourteen years, and during that time I had to keep on the strictest diet. If I did not eat anything the least bit heavy it would be like lead on my stomach, and often make me nearly sick. There were times when I couldn't bear even the smell of food. On top of this, I had rheumatism so bad that all my joints were swollen, my feet and ankles especially, and I suffered almost unbearable pains. I had to have someone dress me for my fingers were so stiff I couldn't even open and close my hands. I was very nervous and would roll and toss for hours at night. I often got up in the middle of the night and stayed up till morning, for sleep was out of the question. I felt off in weight and lost strength until I was almost as helpless as a baby.

"Well, it certainly was a lucky day for me when I began taking Tanlac, for I commenced to improve with the very first bottle. I have taken five bottles now, and am a well woman, for the first time in fourteen years. I never did have such an appetite as I have now and I don't know but it is to suffer from indigestion. My rheumatism seems gone entirely, for I never feel a sign of it. I sleep good at night and feel so much stronger and better than my housework is easy for me. Just any of my neighbors can tell you I am a different woman since I began taking Tanlac and I expect to speak a good word for it as long as I live."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher & Stretch Pharmacy and the leading druggists in every town.

That means this—no jump from a swiftly running horse into the back of a mad steer, leading a stampede, throw the animal and split the head to save the life of a girl who lies in the path of the crushing herd. Gay Young Blood Marries and repents in Haste in Spicy Comedy at The Temple Tonight.

The popular young Blackton stars, Sylvia Breamer and Robert Gordon, return to the Temple tonight in "Respectable By Proxy." It is said to be a spicy, romantic comedy drama. The story revolves around a gay young blood who marries a cheap actress in haste and repents with equal speed. He is reported missing in a shipwreck, but turns up after several months to find a strange young woman in his mother's home posing as his widow. By the time he falls in love with her, his real wife turns up, jangling the whole considerably, but when Shakespeare said, "All's Well That Ends Well" he said enough.

Hibbs Bros. Co.	2	4	383
Standard S. Co.	2	5	262

Standard Supply had too much confidence in themselves Thursday night and when they were taking things easy and thought they had the game with Hibbs Bros. on ice the Hibbs men got busy and walked away with the bacon by the score of 10 to 2. The game was closely played up until the last inning when Hibbs got on their batting feet and made eight runs. Standard's efforts being received by the tailenders in the ninth. Of course it was not all Standard's fault for his teammates did not give him anything like a night's rest.

Standard Supply started out like they were going to salt the game away early and made 3 in the second. Hibbs counted two in the 3rd but the Standard men came back and made 2 in the 5th and 1 in the 6th making their total 8. Hibbs has also counted 3 in the 6th which made the score 3 to 6 when the last inning started. In this round Davis for Hibbs got his first home run and when he came to hit the second time in the inning he hit a three runner. Davis was the trigger of the afternoon and besides the two home runs and three cushion runs got a base on balls. By which Hibbs pulled out of the cellar and shoved Standard Supply into the hole. Standard Supply has the best team of young players in the league but that old team work is really lacking. Hibbs played loose ball in the field but these boys have that "never give up" spirit and fight until the last man is out. Tonight the undefeated Portsmouth Hat Company's men will play Gilbert Grocery Company.

RETURNING TO THE BALANCE

MR. EUGENE ANDERSON, a former citizen of Portsmouth, now the head of the largest wholesale drygoods house on the Pacific coast, stopped over here, the first of the week, on his return to his Seattle home, from a business trip to several European countries.

In his observation he finds Belgium is distinctly prosperous and manufacture and trade are going on there quite as before the war. France has made rapid and distinct strides towards recovery and the actual pinch of poverty and hunger are not the rule. Germany, however, is still prostrate under the exhaustion of war and succeeding disorders in her domains. Manufacturing industry seems to be in a sort of paralysis, and food is not only high but difficult to secure in sufficiency at any price.

Mr. Anderson's observations are in close harmony with phases shown by United States figures on foreign trade for the first nine months of the fiscal year. In that period we have exported to Europe more than was ever done before for a like time. Europe has also bought more of us, but the striking feature is that her purchase of food stuffs has largely declined, while at the same time her demand for raw materials, to be used in the manufacture, and in its converted state returned in a large manner to us, has tremendously enlarged.

There needn't be any surprise at the quick recuperation of Belgium. She was never robbed and pillaged and devastated, to a comparative degree with France and besides this country poured and heaped its bounty upon her from the moment hostilities began until after they ended; Belgians being expert mendicants and beggars in a situation to arouse intense sympathy. It is amazing that France, scourged and ravished as she was, should progress towards recovery, far ahead of Germany, but the latter can escape none other than herself for this. She has lent her energies to chasing some of the penalties war brought upon her, while France has gone to work to rebuild with her own hands.

GOOD WRITING

(The Columbus Dispatch)

WHETHER it was that wrote the lead, as it is called here in the newspaper office, for the Associated Press story of the opening of the San Francisco convention is a good writer. His name was not attached to the dispatch. Special correspondents by the score are sending out articles and many of them are readable. But this unknown correspondent of the Associated Press, doing the prose details of the convention, seems to be the best writer of them all. Take this paragraph from his story of the unfurling of the flag as the convention was called to order:

"A wild shout rang from the floor. It was caught up and echoed from side to side. Rising with hysterical force, the sound grew and grew, a formless, toneless thing that had in it something that stirred the blood and pulled at the heart strings."

There is nothing finer in the way of descriptive matter to be found in the books, nothing more charming in the way of literature, if you please, to be read anywhere. And the fact that it came along as part of the day's work, for a great news-gathering agency that supposed to be cold-blooded and emotionless, adds to the charm.

It may not be out of place to here pay tribute to the Associated Press in connection with these conventions. The great organization has combed the world for the best men to cover such events, and all other events. It has no enmity to promote or advocate. It is interested in no man's victory or defeat. It cares nothing for either political party as such. Its mission is to gather the news and to transmit it to its members expeditiously and in good form—which it does. As a matter of fact, the reports of the Associated Press from this convention as well as from the Chicago convention lead all other news-gathering agencies in the matter of reliability, conciseness and agreeableness of wording.

What the Dispatch says of the particular piece of writing is all true enough and appropriate. That description of the ecstasy of a great throng was the most enthralling word picture that has appeared in press reporting in many a day. It was as the glowing of a clear cool spring to the traveler in the parched desert. Not only press reporting but all sorts of newspaper writing in these modern and hasty days are denuded of imagination and picturesqueness, totally devoid of the descriptive charm to which the English language lends itself. Perhaps, this is because the pressure of "live news" is so great that the rule to "boil it down" is inflexible and imperative and knows only the rarest variation. It is a pity. It is not certain either that it promotes the one final desideratum of all newspapers, circulation. Sometimes, in fact, oftentimes, we feel that if a story in the day's news was told with a touch of sentiment and sympathy, even though at the expense of space, more would be gained in popularity than always the bare and dry recounting of the facts.

Getting tired of Press Association making us pay tolls all the way from San Francisco for news that everybody already knows. After stating that Cummings' eloquence has brought him into the presidential race as quite a figure it adds: "William J. Bryan is opposed to Cummings." Why, yes, certainly, of course, and there is no sense in making us pay for that.

What's this! San Francisco convention in session four days and not a soul has dared to whisper the magic words: Herb Hoover. Speaking of Hoover, since he has discovered his own politics he has shown a disposition to run the Republican party just like he ran our bread during the war.

The Diary of an Engaged Girl

A REAL CHAT WITH LAURA

Laura Blomonds came over and visited me this morning—we did have the best time ever. She is a regular girl, without any doubt.

She arrived quite soon after breakfast, and so, after sitting with mother for a while, I suggested that she come along to my room and give my trousers the once over (phrase that my ma hates).

Up we trotted, and when once safe within my sanctum, we composed ourselves gracefully on couch and led for a long chat.

My, how our tongues did fly, and to think that I stood in awe of this same maiden! Why Laura is every bit as open-minded and curious about life as I am! What's more, she is every bit as engaged in and determined to break loose some day or other as I am.

It's lots of fun discovering people, isn't it? When we had broken several layers of ice we found that even our tastes in many directions were decidedly similar.

That made us feel more chummy than ever. Laura is an entirely different sort of a girl when she is out of her own home. She is admiring, eager and very sparkling and pretty. I was so amazed.

I showed her my finger, and she was delighted with it, especially my favorites, the colored fingers. She, poor girl, has no hope of ever being able to select her own trousseau—and she says she just knows that Morgan hates white underwear. He must, for he is so mad about color. But together we hit upon a scheme (two heads, engaged ones especially, are better than one), wherein I, Lindsey, would donate one whole day in the near future to escorting Laura round to the various shops that are my pet, and where I secured the finger.

Both are so fond of, and help her to pick out a private trousseau of her own, that is, if her mother refuses to let her buy any of the things that she wants.

That made Laura very happy, and she told me that she was just as eager to taste life and to be free as I was—that she had had a hard time protecting herself against the many admirers that Jack and the family had always encouraged to call on her and expected her to fall in love with.

Always she had longed for some easy-going sort, some shining young knight, to come along and fall in love with her and fearlessly ride away with her against the world! Now, I ask you, could there be any one with a more romantic heart than she? And I need to think that she was right—conservative—and wiser!

By accident she had met her knight Morgan. At a dance where her hostess, who was a "non-interferer," had invited several still struggling but promising young artists, Morgan had met her. From the minute she set eyes on Morgan she knew him to be "The Man!" It was a true case of love at first sight.

Well I always knew that old Morgan was romantically so, his side of the affair did not surprise me at all. I wonder only if he realizes that his Laura is such a radical at heart! You are very close to see, I find.

Of course right there we settled down to talking over our men. Laura told me that Jack was a dear, but needed to be held down now and then or he would try to over-ride everyone in his own family. I was glad to be tipped off.

She is wild with delight at the prospect of living in a studio, and more or less in a free and easy way. It is what she has always dreamed of. And the thought of meeting really interesting and human sorts of people is the dream that has kept her up with joy. Dear little, starved Laura. I realize how much more I have had out of life already than she—and yet we are both alive!

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

SIR ROBERT HADFIELD

London social circles are stirred by the rumor that Lady Hadfield who before her marriage was a well known Philadelphia girl, is in Nevada seeking a divorce. Sir Robert Hadfield, her husband, refuses either to affirm or deny the story.

The richest man in Sheffield, and one of the richest in England, Sir Robert Abbott Hadfield, head of Hadfield's Limited, was knighted in 1908 and raised to a baronetcy in 1917. He married in 1859, he married in 1891 Frances Bell, daughter of Col. Samuel M. Wickesham of Philadelphia and sister of George W. Wickesham.

During the war, Lady Hadfield was active in nursing wounded soldiers and at her instance her husband founded a hospital for the British troops at Boulogne. In recognition of her services to the wounded and for her hospital work Lady Hadfield was inducted as a Dame Companion of the Order of the British Empire and appointed as a Lady of Grace of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

The Hadfields have no children, and there is no heir for their magnificent country seat at Parkhead House, Sheffield, or other town residence at Carlton House Terrace, London.

Sir Robert, as chairman of Hadfield's Steel Foundry Company of Sheffield, and former master of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, was a member of the institutes of Civil Engineers and of Mining Engineers and is the inventor of manganese steel and many other alloy steels and metallurgical improvements.

Hadfield's Ltd., had some notoriety in the American press before America entered the war in connection with bids for navy 16-inch shells, which were considerably below the American bids. The Hadfield question was defended by Mr. Charles Schwab on the ground of special plant equipment.

She is wild with delight at the prospect of living in a studio, and more or less in a free and easy way. It is what she has always dreamed of. And the thought of meeting really interesting and human sorts of people is the dream that has kept her up with joy. Dear little, starved Laura. ## BILLY WHISKER

Well from the day the hired girl had a good master and mistress and I hid in alleys, sometimes sleeping out in the rain and cold without any shelter but the sky or anything softer than a board or a piece of straw. I had to be on my feet to sleep on, so when this cocky looking fellow was thrown into the alley I snatched at it with delight and have lived in it ever since.

"You see my story is only a pitifully interesting tale beside your life history." "I forgot the past," said Billy Jr. "That is gone and in the future we will live together and see what good we can get out of life. What do you say to leaving the city and going out into the country? It is much cleaner there, while there is less chance of being almost or getting shut up when we won't be free to come and go as we please."

"Very well," said Stubby. "I am longing to get into the country again. What direction shall we take?" "South," replied Billy Jr. "Let us try to find our way to Old Mexico, where it is nice and warm the year round."

"That is a splendid idea," said Stubby. "I, too, am tired of the cold." "It is too bad that does not live on grass and the things that grow on it, for then you would not have to go hungry so often. I believe I could find old shoes and straw if I could find anything else to eat, although I don't say I should relish them much," said Billy.

"Oh, I can live on very little, so don't worry about me," said Stubby. "At the first peep of dawn the two friends left the old packing box and started on their long journey to Old Mexico."

His father had taken him out to the golf course. That evening he seemed to be in a bad mood. "What is the matter with you?" asked his mother. "I wish you'd stop scratching yourself!"

"I don't know what's the matter, but I guess I must have got some of those golf bugs on me," was Willie's reply.

How It Happened
 "So Freddie is engaged to that hoarse Distiller girl, eh? What's he mulling her for, her money?" "Sssh!" When prohibition came in old man Distiller was left with three million gallons on his hands that he'd inherited some day.—The Home Sector.

Was It All Right?
 "Your business card for young ladies seems to be all right." "It is all right." "Do you give the girls a good, practical business training?" "In reply to that question I can only say that sixty per cent of our graduates marry their employers the first year."

If You Were Busy
 If you were being kind, Before you knew it you would find You'd soon forget to think 'twas true That someone was unkind to you.

If you were busy being glad, And cheering people who were sad, Although your neighbor might sneer a bit, You'd soon forget to notice it.

Wasn't Worth It
 The late Marshall Field had a very small office boy who came to him one day with a request for an increase in wages.

"Huh!" said Mr. Field, looking at him through a magnifying glass. "What raise do you want? How much are you getting?"

"Four dollars a week!" "Four dollars a week!" exclaimed his employer. "Why, when I was your age I was getting only $2!"

"Oh, well, that's different," piped the youngster. "I guess you weren't worth any more."—Ladies Home Journal.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MONTYRE

NEW YORK, July 2.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: They say another astounding world. Will it be another Yonkers castle? Wonder how Henry Hobbles would describe the fast set in this town? That's Nicky Arnstein in front of the Claridge. Looks a little public. Newspapers from all over the world. And that fellow picked the London Times. Smart young blonde wearing trousers slung at the bottom. Still young is the proof of ignorance and we will be wearing them soon. A small town merchant with a pain leaf and his coat over his arm. There's Uncle J. Sheppard sitting in the window of the Helen Gould home. And he's wearing a phony shirt.

More French cafes. Red plush and gilt. And they always serve raw apples for dessert. What is to become of those pointers who decorated bars with everything.

Curious looking fellow just walked past he could get a quart for $5. Wonder if I look like a drinker. They hurt my vanity. Elaine Hammerstein, the movie actress, going into a hotel. Wonder what the inside of a hotel looks like. Park flow sent a big delegation of scowls to Madison, O., on the first train following the news of Senator Harding's nomination. For one young journalist—a graduate of a journalism school—the trip proved its first out of New York. It was also one of his first assignments. And the best of his story ran like this: "So this is Marion! Homegoing New York's little realize that here in this far corner, the home of a potential president, there are no suburbs, elevated tracks or skyscrapers. A play in Marion remains only one night. There is very little light here."

And there you have the mental slant of the hour and lived New York or on the outside world.

A fast subway express train was rushing through the darkness uptown. Suddenly a door swung open and two men were catapulted onto the platform tracks. In a few seconds a train coming from behind ground them to bits. It was, of course, an accident. Perhaps unavoidable. But the explanation of the company that the victims were drunk does not sit well with the New York subway riding public. Subway doors are opened automatically and by guards. Passengers cannot open them. To accuse the helpless victims of intoxication when they cannot defend the charge is at least bad taste.

His Profile
 The following amusing incident occurred at a hairdresser's in a small town in Louisiana.

Customer: Well, Stearns, what do you think of the barber's sermon Sunday? I saw you in church.

Barber: Yes, sir, I was there; but to tell the truth, there was a man sat in front of me whose hair wanted cutting so badly that I couldn't hear a word.

Public Opinion
 "There are some crisp new bills." "I don't want them." "No?"

"No, people will think we haven't had our money very long." Louisville Courier-Journal.

Did It Work?
 "If," said the teacher, "you theme the facts of history, it will help you remember them. For instance, 'In fourteen hundred and ninety-two Columbus sailed the ocean blue.' That will help you to remember the date of the discovery of America."

Next day the teacher said, "Johnny, when did Columbus discover America?"

"In fourteen hundred ninety-three Columbus sailed the dark blue sea."

Wonder If He Saved
 Jones thought he would save a little money by patronizing one of those cheap barber schools. The apprentice who lathered him was quite communicative.

No Balloting Until The Platform Is Accepted PROHIBITION FIGHT PLANK TAKEN TO CONVENTION FLOOR

PLATFORM COMMITTEE REJECTS PROPOSALS FOR DRY PLANK

BRYAN AND COLBY TO TALK ON ISSUE BEFORE CONVENTION

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—A day of hard fighting and with the heaviest and most important of its work still ahead, the Democratic national convention resumed this morning at 10 o'clock to hear the report of the platform committee and face the inevitable floor fight over prohibition as well as probable fights over the league of nations and the Irish question.

Many efforts to compromise the differences over the wet and dry issue in the platform committee failed after prolonged hours of argument, and when all the efforts failed, the committee adjourned for a recess until tomorrow morning. It was announced finally that all proposals to include any kind of a prohibition plank whatever had been rejected by a vote of 100 to 10. The question would be brought to the floor of the convention.

Last night's disappointed crowd, which had packed the great arena at the convention hall to witness the report of the platform committee, found the hall again today determined not to be cheated out of the show by postponements or delays.

Bryan and Colby To Argue

Under the program agreed upon, Mr. Bryan will present his side of the case in a speech limited to 20 minutes, and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, will present the committee's side in another 20 minutes. The arrangement, however, does not mean that the discussion will be confined to one hour. Any number of persons desiring to speak who may be recognized by the permanent chairman will also be heard for 20 minutes each. In case of Mr. Bryan's well known fighting spirit and his demonstrated staying qualities, no one is bold enough to predict that the fight will be a short one. Bryan's repeated announcement determination for "the platform we met on" and his determination of last night assured a hot and bitter struggle, and even though the platform of the administration has been decided, the fight will be a long one. It was no prospect that they would be carried out quickly.

Bryan's Threat Changes Committee Plans

Exactly what took place in the meeting of the resolutions committee last night has not been fully disclosed but it is known that when at the close of the afternoon session all prohibition proposals were voted out of the platform committee, the administration forces had the votes to put over their opposition. Whatever was the result of what Mr. Bryan threatened was sufficient to cause the committee, after being all ready to accept the report, to reconsider its decision and decided to hear Mr. Bryan's further session while the convention adjourned. At this session, Mr. Bryan, it is said, continued his attack on the administration forces, who had with him not to pursue a policy which would make for party unity and endurance party success in the future. Mr. Bryan, however, re-

Text of Democratic Platform

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The following is the text of the platform submitted to the Democratic national convention today.

The Democratic party, in its national convention now assembled, reaffirms its loyalty to the principles of the United States, Woodrow Wilson, and his administration, and its faith in the great work of translating these principles into effective laws, begun and carried far by the Democratic administration under his leadership.

It salutes the mighty people of this great republic, emerging with imperishable honor, from the severe tests and grievous strains of the most terrible war in history, having earned the plaudits and the gratitude of all free nations.

It declares its adherence to the fundamental progressive principles of social, economic and industrial justice, and advances, and purposes to resume the great work of translating these principles into effective laws, begun and carried far by the Democratic administration under his leadership.

It salutes the mighty people of this great republic, emerging with imperishable honor, from the severe tests and grievous strains of the most terrible war in history, having earned the plaudits and the gratitude of all free nations.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The Democratic party favors the league of nations as the surest, if not the only practicable, means of maintaining the permanent peace of the world and terminating the insufferable burden of great military and naval establishments. It was for this that America broke away from feudal isolation and spent her blood and treasure to crush a colossal scheme of conquest. It was upon this basis that the president of the United States in prearrangement with our allies, consented to a suspension of hostilities against the imperial German government; the armistice was granted and a treaty of peace negotiated upon the definite assurance of Germany, as well as to the powers allied against Germany, that "a general association of nations must be formed, under specific covenants, for the purpose of affording mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike." Hence, we not only congratulate the president on the vision manifested and the vigor exhibited in the prosecution of the war, but we felicitate him and his associates on the exceptional achievements at Paris involved in the adoption of a league and treaty so near akin to previously expressed American ideals and so intimately related to the aspirations of civilized peoples everywhere.

CONDEMN REPUBLICANS FOR REFUSAL TO RATIFY TREATY

We condemn the president for his courage and his high conception of the duty of the nation, and his refusal to allow faith in a treaty standing for the covenant agreed to by all the associated and allied nations at war with Germany, and we condemn the Republican senate for its refusal to ratify the treaty merely because it was the product of Democratic statesmanship, thus interposing partisan enmity and personal hatred in the way of the peace and renewed prosperity of the world.

By every accepted standard of international morality the president is justified in asserting that the honor of the country is involved in this business; and we point to the accusing fact that before it was determined to initiate political antagonism to the treaty, the now Republican chairman of the senate foreign relations committee himself publicly proclaimed that any proposition for a separate peace with Germany, such as he and his party associates thereafter reported to the senate, would make us "guilty of the blackest crime."

On May 13 last the Knox substitute for the Versailles treaty was passed, today accepted as the essence of faith.

NOT OPPOSED TO CLARIFYING RESERVATIONS

We endorse the president's view of our international obligations and his firm stand against reservations designed to cut to pieces the vital provisions of the Versailles treaty and we commend the Democrats in congress for voting against reservations for separate peace which would disgrace the nation. We advocate the immediate ratification of the treaty without reservations which would impair its essential integrity; but do not oppose the acceptance of any reservations, making clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the league associates. Only by doing this may we retrieve the reputation of this nation among the powers of the earth and recover the moral leadership which President Wilson won and which Republicans at Washington sacrificed.

Only by doing this may we hope to win effectively in the restoration of order throughout the world and to take the place which we should assume in the front rank of spiritual, commercial and industrial advancement.

We reject as utterly vain, if not vicious, the Republican assumption that ratification of the treaty and membership in the league of nations would in any way impair the integrity or independence of our country. The fact that the covenant has been ratified into by twenty-nine nations, all as jealous of their independence as we are of ours, is a sufficient refutation of such charges. The president repeatedly has declared, and this conviction reaffirms, that all our duties and obligations as a member of the league must be fulfilled in strict conformity with the constitution of the United States, embodied in which is the fundamental requirements of democracy in any way.

CONDUCT OF THE WAR

During the war President Wilson exhibited the very broadest conception of liberal Americans. In his conduct of the war, as in the general administration of his office, there was no semblance of partisan bias. He had land and preserving the security of the government of his country.

We express to the soldiers and sailors of America the admiration of their fellow countrymen. Guided by the genius of such commanders as General Pershing the armed force of America constituted a decisive factor in the victory and brought new lustre to the flag.

We commend the patriotic men and women who sustained the efforts of their government in the crucial hours of the war and contributed to the brilliant administration of the war effort. We salute the brave men and women of the United States who have been called upon to sacrifice their lives and property in the service of their country.

FINANCIAL ACHIEVEMENTS

A review of the record of the Democratic party during the administration of Woodrow Wilson presents a chapter of substantial achievement unsurpassed in the history of the republic. For fifty years before the advent of this administration political and financial progress of the American people had been retarded by the influence of the Republican party. The Republican party had been the cause of the financial and industrial stagnation of the United States. The Democratic party, under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, has brought about a complete reorganization of the financial and industrial system of the United States. The Democratic party has brought about a complete reorganization of the financial and industrial system of the United States.

Tailenders Spring Surprise, Weinberg And Bat Big Factor, Victors Fielded Without Mistake

Long as a telephone pole. Usually Weinberg takes the first one, but not on this occasion. Dunham sent one up shoulder high and there was a crash as bat met ball. The batted ball was sent to deep right and came within a few feet of jamming the score board. The basemenners took up the ball while the crowd went frantic. Some of the grandstanders actually rolled in the dust—reference being made to such relative gentleness as W. W. Bates and Conrad Roth, who actually fell off their seats in a tangled mass. Weinberg had scored the two runs and was roosting safely on third as the result of his smash, while his team was one run to the good. Post-ward tried to emulate Weinberg's actions in hitting the first offering but bumped it to short—some difference in the weight of the two batters.

The Champions were not dismayed, but proceeded to get that one run back in the sixth. Evans slammed a hard triple to left field and came home a moment later when Connell, who was responsible for the three runs scored by the Steelmen, sent a sacrifice fly to middle. Stillwell walked and stole, but Davis fouled and Haupt was out on a spiral drive to third.

The Shoemakers went out rather quickly in the last half of the seventh. Cliff Lowry clubbed a double to right. Connell laid down a sacrifice, which was of a tantalizing nature and could have been scored as a hit. Dunham, however, checked the ball to Evans, who allowed it to bounce out of his hands. Lowry, who had started at the crack of the bat, brought the crowd to its feet by taking advantage of the misplay and reaching for home where he arrived safely. It was a spectacular finish to the greatest struggle yet. Then followed the continuation, the arrest and the auto ride.

The Steelmen began the game with all sorts of vigor, doubling over two runs in the first inning. It really looked as though they were going to give Mr. Evans his walking papers right off the reel, but that he is the owner of a stout heart was shown thereafter when he tightened up like a vice and pitched one of the best to win, but the Excelsiors, encouraged by the shouts of the multitude, having been advised by Manager Irving Ross and James Bauman, secretary, treasurer of the Excelsior Shoe Co., who was out in uniform for the first time, coupled with the high-class hurling of Mr. Evans, the collegian, and the fleet base running of Cliff Lowry, was a combination that could not be held in check. Roy Dunham, big of frame and stout of heart was on the mound for the Steel Plant. Balls and was unable to use his stuff to a large extent due to his wildness. He was picked now and then, particularly when in hurt. Reference is made to the building ability of "Fathful" John Weinberg, who was up to his old tricks in the fifth frame when he clubbed a long triple to right field with a couple of shoemakers on the bases, one of which had been placed there as the result of a base on balls.

The Steelmen, outside of the first inning, were practically helpless. The Evans, who, after the initial stanza when the Champions scored a couple of earned runs on three straight hits, allowed but three hits, one of them was a walk of triple from the bat of "Fathful" Evans and was productive of a run in the sixth frame. The other was a single by Wendell Starn, but he was caught off first

REDS GET SICKING

CINCINNATI, July 2.—The Reds yesterday scattered Eddie Sicking, by the name route, and he will report at once. He has been with the Giants since the start of the season and has played a good many games at third base and also at second. He is a thoroughly competent infielder in any position and will add to the reserve strength of the team. Eddie is a resident of St. Bernard and has many friends and admirers in this city. His arrival here will give the Reds two utility infielders, which is necessary for a championship club to carry.

Standard Supply had too much confidence in themselves Thursday night and when they were taking things easy and thought they had the game with Hibbs Hardware on ice the Hibbs men got away and walked away with the bacon by the score of 14 to 8. The game was closely played up until the last inning when Hibbs got on their batting legs and made eight runs. Kendall's offerings being well received by the tailenders in this round. Of course it was not all Kendall's fault for his teammates did not give him anything like airtight support.

Standard Supply started out like they were going to salt the game away early and made 5 in the second. Hibbs counted two in the 3rd but the Standards came back and made 2 in the 5th and 3 in the 6th making their count 8. Hibbs lost also counted 2 in the sixth which made the score 8 to 6 when the last inning started. In this round Davis for Hibbs got his second home run and when he came to bat the second time in the inning he hit a three bagger. Davis was the slugger of the afternoon and besides the two home runs and three extra base hits got a base on balls. His winning hit pulled out of the cellar and shows Standard Supply into the hole. Standard Supply has the best team of young players in the league but that old team work is sadly lacking. Hibbs played loose ball in the field but there boys have that "never say quit" spirit and fight until the last man is out. Tonight the underdog of Portsmouth Unit Company's nine will play Gilbert Grocery Company.

Your Phone Number.
It is a vital time saver to have the numbers that are most frequently called written conveniently and placed where you can see them. Some persons have this on a card that is posted on the wall beside the telephone but this sometimes does not look very attractive. It is better to attach them to a card that hangs on the phone intended for this purpose. For instance on the card the housewife should have the numbers of the butcher, baker, grocer and other tradesmen.

Famous Tarpelin Rock.
Tarpelin rock is a precipice on the north side of Capetown Hill at Rome, down which criminals sentenced to death were at one time thrown headlong. It derived its name from Tarpelin, a vestal virgin and daughter of Spurius Tarpelin, the governor of the city, who agreed to open the gates to the Sabines, but at the same time, on condition of receiving from them what they were on their arms, meaning their bracelets. Tarpelin was rewarded for her treachery by being crushed to death by the weight of the stones cast upon her by the soldiers, who shouted as they threw them: "These are the ornaments we wear on our arms." According to legend, Tarpelin ever sits in the heart of the rock, adorned with pearls and jewels, and bound by a spell.

The Eye of the Cat.
As shrewd as a cat, which is the permanent blue eyes of cats differ from other eyes. It is noted that immediately the eyes of white cats that are to have permanently blue eyes open their blue eyes in the dark. No other colored eyes does this.

Ralph Waldo Emerson used to make his own ink. Here is his favorite recipe: Pour a scant cupful of salt water over one package of stale, colored paper. When it is cool add one tablespoonful of vinegar.

Three In Hospital After An Auto Accident; Machine Almost Crashes Off Scioto Bridge

BRYAN—"Looks Like a Cloudburst Comin' Up—Just My Doggone Luck—Every Time I Go to a Convention I Get Soaked!"

Harry H. Martin, single, shoemaker, 941 Front street; Gustave Trear, single, steelworker, 1006 Front street, and Butler R. Filmore, married, steelworker, New Boston, are in Hempstead hospital suffering from injuries sustained in an accident which occurred shortly after 10 o'clock Thursday night when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into the steel girder at the west approach of the Scioto bridge.

Two young women, Evelyn Thompson and Ethel Thompson, who were also in the machine, were hurt though not seriously, the former receiving a broken nose and the other was slightly cut by glass.

Martin was the worst injured, sustaining a deep cut over the left eye and he was delivered when taken to the hospital. His condition was little improved this morning.

Trear received a bad cut on his right side which required several stitches to close and he was otherwise injured while Filmore sustained a sprained ankle and was cut by glass. The machine, a Ford sedan, which was owned by Filmore, was almost completely wrecked by the force of the impact which threw two of the occupants violently from the car and which indicated that the machine was traveling at a high rate of speed when the crash came. The entire front of the machine was smashed.

The crash was heard for several squares and a report that some of the party had been killed soon attracted a big crowd to the scene. Game Protector Frank D. Voorhees of the town were the first persons to reach the scene and assisted in taking care of the injured.

From reports received by the police the party had been joy riding all evening and that the sedan had just come out second best in a race with a big car from Fulton Mills when the accident occurred.

According to Mr. Voorhees his machine was traveling at the rate of 25 miles an hour when the big touring car and the sedan passed him, the big car being the first to reach the bridge. "Both cars passed me like a shot out of a gun and I had just remarked to my wife that Ford was wabbling when the crash came," Mr. Voorhees said.

The car refused to discuss how the accident occurred. Filmore was at the wheel and he admitted that he was "sending the car along" when the crash came. One machine owner, who was just back of the Filmore machine said it looked to him like Butler did not realize how close he was to the side of the bridge and if there had not been a heavy iron fence there his machine and occupants would have plunged off the Scioto into the bottom, a distance of 20 feet.

The only way to stop speeding on the Scioto is to put a traffic officer over there. I frequently use it and many accidents are guilty of speeding and reckless driving just as soon as they reach the Scioto," Deputy Game Protector F. D. Voorhees said last night at the scene of the accident. "When I reached the wrecked automobile I expected to find three or four of the occupants dead. One of the women was lying on one side of the bridge and one of the men on the other. I asked the woman her name and before she could tell me one of the men warned her to keep her mouth shut. It was one of the luckiest accidents I have ever seen. The only way to stop the speeding is to place an officer on the Scioto."

To show the force of the impact when the closed car crashed into the heavy girder the front seat of the machine was picked up 20 feet from the wrecked car. Fragments of the shattered windshield were picked up 50 feet from the machine.

The hundreds of auto owners, who viewed the wreckage last night declared it to be one of the worst they had ever seen.

Chief Davis was one of the first persons to reach the bridge after the crash. He kept the crowd moving and secured the names of the two women, who walked across the bridge after the accident.

They were bleeding from cuts and lacerations received when showered with broken glass from the windshield but insisted that they were not badly injured and did not want a physician.

WORDY WAR AT BALL GAME

A wordy war between Ed. Hubert, a roofer, and Catcher Goodman, of the steel plant team, led to the staging of a small street riot at the Phillips street ball grounds at the close of the game between the Exaltors and Steelmen Thursday evening.

The altercation started immediately after the Shoemakers had put over the winning marker in the last half of the final inning and serious trouble was imminent as the excited fans surged onto the field and surrounded the steel plant bench. As Officer Flowers made his way through the crowd he was attacked by Nightfighter Davis of the Steelmen, it is said, and the ball player was then placed under arrest.

This added to the excitement and the crowd swayed into Sixteenth street, a howling mass, following the officer and his prisoner. Davis was put in an automobile and brought to police headquarters, but was later released.

ATTEMPT MADE TO BLOW UP PLANT

New Pumper Is Tested

Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock the new triple combination fire truck was given an hour test on the lower Market square and local fire officials seemed well pleased with the results.

The truck, an American La France, made at Elgin, New York, is a combination truck, carrying hose, chemicals and pumper. The pumper was put into operation Thursday afternoon and pumped two streams of water out of the cistern on the esplanade, showing up satisfactorily to the firemen.

After over twenty minutes of pumping with the two hoses of hose the big ladder tower was run up and both these times coupled to the line on the big ladder. An enormous stream was thrown in this manner.

The new machine will pump 750 gallons of water a minute. In order that the test might more fully be made a four hour demonstration will be made on the lower Market square Friday afternoon, beginning at one o'clock.

Two of these machines costing the city in all around $21,000 will be installed as part of the Portsmouth fire department equipment. The other machine is expected in thirty days.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME AGITATED IN MANY STATES

Map with key shows scope of daylight saving movement.

National association of manufacturers of automobiles, which is a part of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, has issued a statement to the effect that the adoption of daylight saving time is a matter of local option and that the national association of manufacturers of automobiles is not in a position to make a recommendation on the subject.

As a result of the adoption of daylight saving time, truck line railways have been forced to make their trucks travel on the "A" road at daylight time. Interurban lines, however, have in a large measure adopted the time schedule of the day time service.

In Wisconsin the legislature has adopted the daylight saving time schedule.

On the new schedule for the southern half of New Jersey, existing Newark is operating under daylight saving, ordinary time, and in Detroit and Cleveland, the standard time has been adopted.

The industrial centers in Pennsylvania and Ohio have moved the clock ahead one hour, as have Chicago, Denver, Salt Lake City, Chattanooga, Tennessee, and other large towns.

Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and the south Atlantic coast cities have not adopted the measure.
